

Circle of Directors Opening

Na-Me-Res (Native Men's Residence)

Native Men's Residence is currently seeking to fill volunteer positions for their Circle of Directors. Circle members are responsible for the overseeing of organizational development and play a crucial role in organizational success.

Native Men's Residence is a multiservice organization located in Toronto which delivers a variety of programs and services. It offers Sagatay, a culture-based residential healing and learning program for Aboriginal men and male youth, a 63-bed emergency shelter, outreach services for people living on the streets, after care and a special needs service for people who are homeless and have mental health challenges. Inclusively, Na-Me-Res fosters and maintains a healthy sense of community, cooperation and self-worth through the promotion of Traditional Native Culture and Values. We endeavour to build a strong foundation for our clients on their road to recovery and self-sufficiency.

This is an opportunity to develop new and exciting strategic directions as part of a dynamic organization striving to enhance services available for Toronto's Aboriginal homeless population.

Na-Me-Res looks for the following qualities in all of its circle members:

- Understanding of Toronto's Aboriginal community and its needs;
- Awareness of homeless issues, particularly as they apply to Aboriginal people and/or marginalized communities;
- Willingness to commit time for board meetings, committee meetings, planning sessions, special events;
- Ability to excel in a team environment;
- Familiarity with board procedures and non-profit management;
- Knowledge of an Aboriginal language and/or traditional cultures is considered an asset.

Currently we are seeking members with expertise in the following areas:

- Financial Analysis
- Fundraising
- Marketing
- Strategic Planning
